Health and Beauty

A young girl usually starts losing her "baby fat" when she approaches 12 or 13. From this point until her early twenties she enjoys all the attributes that go with being a skinny adult. Firm figure, glowing skin and energy to burn.

This lovely state can't last forever .However, her eating habits and rest habits and the care she gives her hair and skin will prolong this period as well as make her enjoy better health all through life.

It is normal for young people to eat enormous amounts of food. Their growing bodies need it. However, what kind of food they are eating is all important. A heavy intake of soda fountain specialities and starches will eventually show up on complexions, teeth and waistlines.

These over-rich goodies should be completely cut out. They most certainly must be cut down to two or three "treats" a week

A diet rich in eggs, fish, meat and fresh fruit is all important. Protein is needed to help build healthy tissue, create energy and prevent starch - inspired fat from ruining a foothold.

It has been found that a well-rounded diet cuts down on the craving for large quantities of sweets.

As a person gets older he is able to function with few sleeping hours. During the teens more energy is burned during the day and a teenager needs "at least" 8 hours of sleep.

Insufficient cleansing when you are under twenty can result in real skin problems. Soap and water — using lots of both — is the best complexion cleanser for most teenage skins.

Real skin problems and acne should always be brought to the attention of a doctor.

FIRST RESULTS OF NEW MOTOR VEHICLE INSPECTION SYSTEM

Richmond.- While motor vehicle inspections for January, the first month of the new inspection system ,did not reach 240,000 which would have constituted one-sixth of the registered vehicles in the state, Captain R. B .King, State Police Safety Officer, stated he was well pleased with the initial effort which saw some 155,000 cars go through the stations.

Captain King explained that since each car must be inspected twice annually the ideal situation would be to achieve inspection of one-sixth of Virginia's total registration of about 1,432,000 during each month of the year .However, he felt the figure of 155,000 to be encouraging in the light of such a drastic departure from the old system of two designated periods annually for one permitting the individual car owner to select the months in which he wishes to have his car checked.

The new system, which began on January 1, 1959, allows an owner to have his car inspected any time prior to June 15 of this year. The second inspection is then due by the end of the sixth month that selected for the in an example, Captain R motorist having his car March would receive a bered "9," meaning reinspection was due again day of March.

Should the owner desi in his inspection month have his car checked in prior to the termination thus alter the sequence.

The Safety Officer st toring public not to de until May or June when every risk of crowded s new system was inaugu away with this last-minu of congestion but we public compliances if it work," he said. "Go to of your choice now and of a minimum of waiti convenience."
